1.0 A Brief History of Social Work in Canada

It is difficult to date the beginnings of social work as a recognized occupational group in Canada, however, a National Conference of Charities and Correction held in Toronto in 1897 indicates the presence of a sufficiently large community of social workers in order to support a conference of this caliber. The call for social work training schools resulted in the foundations of a school by the New York Charity Organization in 1889.

In 1904, their program had developed into a yearlong program and eventually became affiliated with the university community as the Columbia School of Social Work. In Canada, the first professional training school of social work was founded at the University of Toronto in 1914. J.J. Kelso was instrumental in convincing the President of the University of Toronto that a Canadian training school was necessary. McGill added a training school of social work in 1918. Neither school initially required a bachelor's degree for entrance, nor did they grant degrees. Instead, a one-year diploma course was offered for those who had graduated from university sociology and psychology programs and a two-year course was provided for non-social science or non-university graduates.

The pioneer graduates in Canada were generally females, poorly paid, and surrounded by volunteer workers and agency staff without formal social work qualifications. Only three schools of social work in Canada existed until well into the 1940's (one in Toronto, and two in Montreal). By 1947, there were eight schools of social work in Canada. After considerable debate among the Canadian academic community, schools of social work in Canada became recognized degree-granting schools. The first master's degrees in social work in Canada were conferred in 1947 and the first doctoral program began in 1951 at the University of Toronto.

The University of Windsor and George Williams established the first undergraduate social work programs in Canada, a trend which grew rapidly in the late 1960's in Canadian universities to meet the growing demand for professional social workers. Canadian community colleges began offering diploma courses in social service work in the early 1970's. The growth of schools and programs created a need for an association of social work educators and resulted in 1967 with the formation of The Canadian Association of Schools of Social Work.

This organization accredits school of social work programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels. This was the second major social work association formed in Canada. The early social workers recognized the need for a national association of social work practitioners in 1924 and had successfully established such an association by December 31st, 1927. The first branch of the Canadian Association of Social Workers (CASW) was formed in Montreal (1927) and Toronto (1928). Registration and licensing were undertaken in 1933. CASW decided that professional registration was a matter of provincial/territorial jurisdiction, a decision that resulted in the move toward provincial/territorial incorporation of the various divisions of CASW, which was completed in 1967.

The CASW was involved in political lobbying activities beginning with the problems of the Depression. CASW presented briefs to the Rowell-Sirois Commission in its study of public welfare in 1938, assisted in the recruitment of social workers into the Armed Forces during the WWII years, prepared briefs on Unemployment Insurance, Health Insurance and on the entry of displaced persons during the post-war period, collaborated on the Marsh Report on Reconstruction, and worked with the Swiss Association of Social Workers to aid in post-war reparation for European social workers. The latter activity firmly established Canadian social work ties with the broader work social work community. Our ties to the global social work community continue with active involvement in the International Federation of Schools of Social Work, and international education initiatives. The first Code of Ethics for Canadian social worker was accepted in 1938 and has continually been revised and updated to reflect current issues and concerns, the most recent revision was completed in 1994 (Taylor, 2002).

2.0 The University of Windsor

On July 1, 1963, the new, non-denominational University of Windsor inherited an educational complex founded in 1857 as Assumption College, developed since 1870 by the Basilian Fathers (the Congregation of St. Basil) and expanded to independent University status in 1953. The transition from an historic Roman Catholic university to a non-denominational institution was unprecedented.

The transformation began in 1956, with the affiliation of Essex College, the first provincially assisted public institution of higher education. The new institution included Assumption University as a federated member, which operated residences on campus for men and women and held in abeyance its own degree-granting powers, except in the graduate Faculty of Theology. All of the facilities and teaching faculty of Assumption University were absorbed into the University of Windsor, as were those of its federated, non-denominational Essex College, which ceased to exist as a separate corporation when it joined Assumption in a petition to incorporate the University of Windsor to assume responsibility and control for all academic operations. The President of Assumption University, Rev. E.C. Lebel became the first President and Vice-Chancellor of the new University, and Dr. F.A. DeMarco, the Principal of Essex College became the Vice-President.

Assumption College opened on February 10, 1857, largely through the efforts of Rev. Pierre Point (S.J.), pastor of Assumption Parish in Sandwich. This parish was established as a mission in 1748 and then a parish in 1767, the oldest in Canada west of Montreal. M. Theodule Girardot was the first instructor. The College was incorporated by an Act of Legislature of the Province of Canada which received Royal Assent August 16, 1858, during the Superiorship of Rev. Joseph Malbos, a Basilian who guided for one year. The College was directed successively by Jesuits, Benedictines, and secular clergy until the Basilians arrived in 1870.

During the early years, the curriculum consisted of classical and commercial courses which provided a complete high school and arts program primarily designed to prepare students for theological seminaries, although many alumni entered business and professional spheres. In 1919, Assumption affiliated with Western University, London, Ont., (now the University of Western Ontario), as an integral part of the latter's Faculty of Arts and Science with a broadened curriculum including general and four-year major courses in Arts and Sciences leading to Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, graduate work in Philosophy leading to the Master of Arts degree, and pre-professional programs such as Pre-engineering, Pre-Medicine and Pre-law.

From 1934 to 1962, Holy Names College conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, provided opportunity for higher education for women, and when it moved to the campus in 1950, it enabled Assumption to become co-educational. The Sisters then disbanded the College, while continuing to teach at the University and Assumption took over its women's residence, which was renamed Electa Hall.

3.0 The School of Social Work

3.1 Mission Statement

The mission of the School of Social Work is to promote social justice through quality professional education, advocacy, community partnerships, and the development and dissemination of knowledge through enquiry. (Passed at School Council, 2019)

3.2 Social Justice Statement

The School's commitment of social justice and its mandate in social work education finds its roots in the profession's historical commitment to serve the interests of oppressed and vulnerable populations and a set of fundamental values stated in the professions Code of Ethics.

This mandate is realized in the preparation of students with knowledge, research and practice intervention skills to assume professional and leadership roles to eradicate systemic barriers which oppress citizens and disenfranchised populations. Principles of justice find their meaning here in a fundamental belief in the dignity of all persons, the importance of access of citizens to participate, and striving for a more equitable distribution of our society's resources in the interest of promoting quality of life for all citizens. (Passed at School Council October 23, 2019)

To that end, the School aims to:

- Advance research, practice and policy through student participation and engagement in the unique, diverse, and interdisciplinary and combined programs offered at the University and School of Social Work
- Collaborate with our diverse partners to address social inequities at the local, provincial, national and global levels while recognizing the school's unique geographic location on an international border creates research and leadership opportunities within a broad North American context.
- Embrace a leadership role in social work education and research – where we educate the social work leaders of tomorrow to explore society's increasingly complex global challenges.

3.3 Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Decolonization (EDID) Committee

The Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences (FAHSS) Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Decolonization (EDID) Committee is made up of a group of faculty, staff and students from a broad range of programs within the faculty, who meet on a monthly basis to address various issues facing the FAHSS community at the University of Windsor.

Working in cooperation with the Office of Human Rights, Equity & Accessibility (OHREA) and the Office of the Vice-President, Equity, Diversity & Inclusion, our objective is to facilitate an accountable, respectful, productive, welcoming and educational environment for all students, staff and faculty in the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, through practices designed to eliminate discriminatory barriers and provide/foster opportunities to all regardless of gender, sexuality, age, ethnicity, race, spirituality, religion, socio-economic class, status (Indigenous, marital, immigration) and physical/mental abilities.

SWRK-8534 - Social Work Practice with Organizations and Communities

In this course, students will critically describe the political forces, cultural forces, social forces, and professional issues that impact working with organizations and communities. They will critically describe human diversity, human oppression, and social justice in the context of social work interventions with organizations and communities with particular attention to removing barriers to change and mobilizing or facilitating change with diverse populations. This course prepares students to understand and critically evaluate use applied research in evaluating social work practice. The ideological assumptions underlying qualitative and quantitative research methods will be examined. Students will consider ethical issues as they conduct a literature review, identify a research problem relevant for interventions for diverse populations, formulate a research question and hypotheses, develop an appropriate design and methodology considering quantitative and qualitative options, and indicate appropriate analytical methods (statistical and/or qualitative).

SWRK-8550 - Social Work Values, Ethics and Anti-Oppressive Practice

In this course, students will use an anti-oppressive focus to critically examine the nature, history, traditions, and issues of the social work profession as they relate to the development of a distinct theoretical knowledgebase, set of values, code of ethics, and approaches to direct and indirect practice. During the course, students will examine ethical questions and value dilemmas encountered by social workers in various fields of practice. Through value analysis and the application of ethical principles, the meaning of professionalism and its expression in social work are considered using contemporary practice case studies.

SWRK-8570 - Field Integration Seminar

This seminar course focuses on the integration of academic and field work experience to advance knowledge, values, and skills as they relate to the development of advanced practice competence. Students will use structured reflection and self-evaluation to understand their own practice in terms of values, ethics, policies, theoretical models, and agency expectations. Students will reflect upon personal values and beliefs and explore solutions to actual issues during their field placements. (This course is evaluated on a pass/fail basis).

SWRK-8571 - Foundation Year Practicum (FYP)

This course is offered in a field education setting and is designed to assure the practice of advanced social work from the ecological perspective. The foundation practicum comprises 450 hours of supervised social work practice. (Prerequisites: SWRK-8503, SWRK-8504, SWRK-8531, SWRK-8532, SWRK-8533, SWRK-8534, SWRK-8550).

SWRK-8610 - Advanced Direct Social Work Practice

This course will focus on the critical analysis of the theoretical basis for and the application of a range of advanced professional social work theories and models to direct practice with diverse populations. Using ecological systems and strengths perspectives, students will analyze client empowerment and constructive transactions with the environment. Aimed at enhancing social justice, an analysis and critique of evidence-based practices with clients will be explored as vehicles to bringing about change.

SWRK-8611 - Advanced Indirect Social Work Practice

Students will critically assess indirect social work practice with regards to community practice and human service organizations. Using an ecological perspective, students will examine community practice and human service organizations within the context of professional social work practice and by highlighting key indirect social work functions with a focus on community and organizational development.

MSW students are subject to the rules and regulations contained in the University of Windsor Graduate Calendar as established by the Faculty of Graduate Studies. MSW students are asked to pay specific attention to the following:

- (1) Graduate students must register before the proper deadline, or they will not receive credit for academic work they may be doing during the term. Note: Registration is not complete until all appropriate fees have been paid (Faculty Regulations).
- (2) Full-time students are required to maintain continuous registration through all terms of their graduate program. Failure to do so will require application for readmission to their program and payment for terms missed - up to a maximum of three terms. (Faculty Regulations)

11.5 Leaves of Absence

Full-time students may apply for the following types of Leaves of Absence by first speaking with the Academic Coordinator of the MSWwp Program applying directly to the Dean of Graduate Studies:

1. Maternity Leave;
2. Paternity Leave;
3. Parental Leave;
4. Financial Leave;
5. Medical Leave; and
6. Personal Leave.

While on leave, a student will not have access to any university resources, including office space, computer access, library facilities, continuation of laboratory experiments, computer research applications, and guidance by faculty members.

Applications may be submitted to the MSWwp Academic Coordinator for recommendation as a first step. A student on leave of absence will be assessed a fee of fifty dollars ($50.00) per term. Appeals against any decisions shall be heard promptly by the Graduate Appeals Committee.

Note: Students should refer to the Graduate Calendar for further information related to Leave of Absence procedures.

11.6 Policy on Plagiarism

Please refer to Faculty Regulations of the Graduate Calendar:

The University expects that all researchers will adhere to the proper standards of intellectual honesty in the written or spoken presentation of their work and will at all times acknowledge in a suitable manner the contribution made by other researchers to their work, as outlined in the Senate Policy on Authorship and the Policy Statement on Research Personnel. If you are unsure as to what constitutes plagiarism, it is defined in the Student Code of Conduct.

As defined in the University of Windsor's Student Code of Conduct, plagiarism is the act of copying, reproducing or paraphrasing significant portions of one's own work, or someone else's published or unpublished material (from any source, including the internet), without proper acknowledgement, representing these as new or as one's own.

It is expected that all graduate students will be evaluated and graded on their individual merit, and all work submitted for evaluation should clearly indicate that it is the student's own contribution. Graduate students often have to use the ideas of others as expressed in written or published work in preparing essays, papers, reports, theses and publications. It is imperative that both the data and ideas obtained from any and all published or unpublished material be properly acknowledged, and their sources disclosed. Failure to follow this practice constitutes plagiarism and is considered to be a serious offence by the University. Thus, anyone who knowingly or recklessly uses the work of another person and creates an impression that it is his or her own is guilty of plagiarism.

It is not permissible for an essay or other paper to be submitted twice. It is expected that a thesis, essay, paper or report has not been, and is not concurrently being, submitted to any other Faculty or University for credit toward any degree, or to this University for any other course. In exceptional circumstances and with the prior agreement of the instructor, a student may use research completed for one course as part of his or her written work for a second course.

Where plagiarized work has been submitted, or where a student has submitted a paper for double credit, a failing grade may be assigned by the instructor to that assignment. The student has the right to appeal this grade to the Dean of Graduate Studies, in accordance with the Graduate Appeals Policy. Disciplinary action may be taken, as set out in Senate Bylaw 31.

In case of any doubt, students are strongly urged to consult with the instructor or thesis supervisor. In cases where students feel that their intellectual property or copyrighted material has been plagiarized, complaints should be made in writing to the Dean of Graduate Studies.

11.7 Policy on Grading and Graduation

All courses will receive “Numeric” grades. The Foundation Year Practicum (FYP) and the Advanced Practice Internship (API) will be evaluated with a ‘Pass’/‘Non-Pass’ grade. The candidate’s completed work must be approved by the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average (cGPA) of at least 73% in each semester in which they are enrolled. A student who earns a course grade in the range 60-69% in one Course, or if their cGPA falls below 73%, will be placed on academic probation. A student will remain on academic probation for one subsequent semester by the end of which they must have raised their cGPA to at least 73%, or they will be required to withdraw. A student may also be required to withdraw from the program if they receive more than two course grades in the range of 60-69%, or one course grade below 60%.

Please note, as per University policy, students may be allowed to retain for credit up to two courses in which they received a grade of 60-69%*

Note: Students should refer to the Graduate Calendar for further information related to Leave of Absence procedures.

11.8 Policy on Webcam Etiquette

1. Students should be live on camera for the entire class duration in the same way that students would be in the class during a face-to-face meeting.
2. Students should log on at least 5 minutes before the beginning of class to ensure that their camera, mic, and speakers are working.
3. Students should be in a quiet spot where they can focus on the class and not distract other students. Example - in a quiet room in your home. Not acceptable examples – in a coffee shop, in the living room with the TV on.
4. Students should make arrangements for other responsibilities during the class session, such as childcare, pets, etc.

12.0 Internship–Agency and University Agreements

While informal agreements between the School of Social Work and the agency may satisfy the needs of each, in the interest of clarity and uniformity of expectations, it is preferable that a formal, standard agreement respecting the field work services which will be provided and the conditions which will apply be signed by both parties. The agency-university agreement must be signed by the agency director and will be kept on file in the School of Social Work.

13.0 Insurance

13.1 Public Liability

The University carries a Comprehensive General Liability Policy, which covers bodily injury, personal injury, and property damage. A Certificate of Insurance can be provided upon request. This policy also covers any executive officer, member of Board of Governors, trustees and any other officials, elected or appointed in connection with University activities and or operations, employees, volunteer workers, including lecturers, guest lecturers all while acting within the scope of their duties as such, and a person gratuitously performing work in connection with an undertaking of the University with the knowledge or expresses approval of the University. In addition, all University of Windsor registered students are embraced by the term Insured, but only with respect to liability arising from the Named Insured and only while students are engaged in activities involving their normal course of studies, including on-the-job training programs arranged by the University for students enrolled for courses of study at the University.

Personal injury includes:

- false arrest, false imprisonment, malicious prosecution and wrongful detention;
- invasion or violation of privacy, wrongful eviction, wrongful entry;
- libel, slander, defamation of character and humiliation.

13.2 Automobile

The University's Automobile Insurance Policy only insures vehicles owned and/or leased by the University. The Policy does not include coverage for vehicles owned by faculty, staff or students in the Field Education Program, and therefore all parties should ensure that they are personally covered by their own adequate insurance. Students travelling to and from field placement in their own vehicles do so at their own risk. Students who transport agency clients or volunteers should ensure that their personal automobile insurance covers such contingencies and is approved by the agency and is consistent with agency policies.

13.3 Worker's Safety Insurance

The Ministry of Colleges and Universities (MCU) provides insurance coverage for workplace injuries incurred by students participating in an unpaid work placement as part of their academic program.

Ministry of Colleges and Universities (MCU) provides insurance coverage for Ontario Postsecondary students who must complete an unpaid work placement as a requirement of their publicly supported postsecondary education program. This includes all undergraduate and graduate students placed in field education sites, completing the required practicum hours.

14.0 Research Ethics Board (See REB Website)

Any research involving human subjects must undergo ethics review. The Office of the Research Ethics Board is a committee of the University of Windsor. Students should allow the necessary time for Ethical Review Clearance in their plan of study.

15.0 Use of Computers

Graduate students are provided with an account on the university mainframe. This provides access to electronic mail facilities, the Internet, statistical software packages, scientific graphics, computer language, compilers, etc. Students are encouraged to learn how to search full-text electronic journal articles, which are accessible through the Leddy Library's website.

16.0 APA Guidelines

The School of Social Work uses the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association Seventh Edition. Students are required to follow these guidelines for all papers, reports, and presentations. While a brief summary is available at the Leddy Library, most graduate students will need to access the more complex points found in the APA manual for their graduate work.

16.1 The Library System

The Leddy Library is the main library for the University of Windsor and serves as the primary library for all disciplines except law. The Leddy Library collections include print and electronic books and journals; films and videos; microform and archival materials and a wide array of subject-specific databases, including Social Work Abstracts and Social Services Abstracts. The Leddy Library also holds more than 17,000 digital objects through the library's institutional repository. Social work students have access to materials for a wide range of subject areas. Students also have access to resources and services in the University of Windsor's Don & Gail Rodzik Law Library.

Interlibrary loan services are provided through Omni, an academic search tool that includes the holdings of the University of Windsor libraries and eighteen Ontario university libraries who participate in Omni. Print books that are borrowed from another Omni library can be picked up and returned to any Omni library, but print books borrowed from non-Omni libraries must be picked up and returned to the Leddy Library. Through the Canadian University Reciprocal Borrowing Agreement (CURBA), students and faculty can borrow materials from any of the participating Canadian university libraries with their UWinCARDS. The Leddy Library has reciprocal borrowing arrangements in place for over eighteen Detroit area college and university libraries. The Library is a member of the South East Michigan League of Libraries (SEMLOL) and participates in their reciprocal borrowing arrangement known as INFOPASS.

The Social Work librarian can provide one-to-one and group help for students about library resources for their research and how to use them effectively. Meetings can be held in person or virtually through Microsoft Teams. The librarian has an office at the Leddy Library but also has an office at the School of Social Work and spends one day a week during the academic year (September through April) at the School to provide research help onsite for students and faculty. The librarian also provides library instruction classes that are specifically tailored for Social Work courses. The following Leddy Library guides provide some additional information about library services and resources for Social Work including:

The School recognizes that the safety, confidentiality and self-determination of students or others who have been subjected to unprofessional conduct under this Policy must be an important priority.

Personal information collected by the University shall only be disclosed and used in accordance with the University's duties and obligations under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). In developing a response to a concern about student suitability, the School must balance confidentiality against its duty to protect existing and future students or persons who might otherwise be placed in jeopardy by a student who is acting in an unprofessional manner under this Policy. Appendix C: University of Windsor School of Social Work Social Media Use Policy

Introduction

The guidelines for use of social media outlined in this document have been designed to help members of the School of Social Work, including Faculty, Staff, Students, and other persons associated with the University of Windsor social work program, make appropriate professional decisions about ethical use of social media.

These policies, standards and codes are applicable to the field education and classroom settings, virtual learning environments such as Blackboard, on-line seminars, text messaging, and on-line social networking sites (Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, etc.), including closed private online groups.

Social media refers to online technologies and practices that are used to share information and opinions, host conversations and build relationships. It can involve a variety of formats, including text, pictures, video, audio and “live” real-time dialogues of a few, or thousands of participants. Examples of social media include discussion forums, blogs, social networks, wikis, and podcasts.

While the School of Social Work values both academic freedom and freedom of inquiry and affirms these as pillars of a university education whether expressed in oral communication, print or electronically, the following policies and guidelines apply to all members of the School of Social Work.

Guidelines

- Members of the School of Social Work must review and adhere to University/classroom/agency-specific social media policies.
- The use of social media, the internet, email or texting for non-academic purposes during class or in field placement is not permitted.
- Use of cell phones is not permitted in the classroom or in field placement, unless required for an emergency purpose, and when there is no other means of contact available.
- Members of the School of Social Work are expected to maintain confidentiality and privacy. Do not post confidential information about the School of Social Work, its students, faculty or its agencies. Confidentiality also extends to families, agency staff, and organizations.
- Be aware of liability. Members of the School of Social Work are responsible for the content that is posted on their own sites.
 - Avoid using unprofessional online personas. Do not post defamatory, libelous or obscene content.
- Students may not access agency computers for social networking, unless this is for an agency purpose and is approved by the Field Instructor.
- Do not engage in any conduct that is not consistent with the following:
 - University of Windsor Policy S6: Student Code of Conduct (University of Windsor Central Policies Database - View Policy \(uwindsor.ca\))
 - University of Windsor Information Technology Services, Acceptable Use Policy

On weekends designated as “Self-Study”, there will be no scheduled classes. However, if a course cannot be held due to an unforeseen circumstance weekend dates indicated with an asterisk (*) will be used to make-up for the weekend that was missed for that module.

Should a make-up session not be required, then the weekend will remain a self-study weekend. You will be notified in advance if a self-study weekend becomes a class weekend.

Note: It is the student’s responsibility to refer to the most current important dates at the location above. Course sequencing and schedule are subject to modification. Please be aware that students are expected to attend all classes in their entirety.

Appendix G: MSWwp Attendance Guidelines (2024-2025)

The School of Social Work MSWWP Attendance Guidelines begins with the admission of the student to the Masters of Social Work Working Professionals Program:

1. Students are informed in their conditions of admission that before they accept their offer they should refer to the program schedule online at www.uwindsor.ca/msw and ensure that they are able to attend all classes in their entirety. This policy is a condition of the student's admission to the MSWwp Program. By accepting the offer of admission students are advised that they are indicating that they will be able to attend all classes in their entirety. The above is stated in student and instructor orientations and in day to day conversations between students and their instructors, in course syllabi, teaching practices, strategies, and methodologies.

2. The MSWwp program is a Graduate Professional Social Work program. This means that students are expected to participate in all classes in their entirety. The expectation students attend all classes is made clear to students during recruitment, in their acceptance letter, during student orientations, in their syllabi, and in conversations with instructors.

3. If a student presents extenuating circumstances beyond their control and as a reason they will miss class (this means any absences of more than ½ day), they are to consult with the Academic Coordinator of the MSWwp program.

a. Extenuating Circumstances mean illness, bereavement, or other compassionate circumstances. Some form of documentation is required for all absences, such as the Faculty Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences Medical Certificate, funeral notices, or police reports.

4. The instructor, at their discretion, may approve absences (for legitimate reasons) of under ½ day. Absences must be approved by the instructor well in advance of the class. In this case, the instructors will problem-solve with the student as to the manner in which they will make-up missed assignments. If the instructor has not been notified by the student of such absence, the instructor will note this as an absence from class.

5. Employment responsibilities are not reasons for an excused absence. Before admission, students are required to submit a letter of support from their employer releasing them from employment responsibilities for purposes of attending class.

*It is the students' responsibility to review all information and forms prior to beginning their academic program.

Appendix I: University of Windsor Commitment to Challenge, Confront and Eliminate Anti-Black Racism

A Message from President and Vice-Chancellor Rob Gordon

As an institution of higher learning, the University of Windsor has a duty to its faculty, staff, students and broader community to strive to be an agent of effective change. We have failed to fully address the pervasive racial injustice that manifests in society and on our campus. The year 2020 represents a significant shift in the global conversation around Anti-Black Racism. Black, Indigenous, and racialized peoples in Canada continue to face oppression, and the work of eradicating Anti-Black Racism and oppression in all its forms on our campus is critical. The University of Windsor is affirming its commitment to challenge and dismantle systemic oppression. A truly inclusive future for the University of Windsor begins with our actions and choices today. We invite all members of the campus community to engage in this important work.
