- You must be registered as a student (full time student if international) before employment can begin.
- If you do not currently have a University of Windsor employee number, leave it blank. If you are hired, you will complete forms with Human Resources to get the employee number. If you don't already have a Canadian Social Insurance Number (SIN), you will need one before you get the employee number. Instructions will be sent to you about this if you are hired.

- Do not attach your transcript for the University of Windsor or elsewhere to this application. Your graduate application documents (for M1 & M2 graduate students) and transcripts (for undergrads and University of Windsor students) will be accessed in order to confirm your academic performance and current status.
- Communication and inter-personal skills will be assessed in a brief interview with the Economics Graduate Director. You will be notified of an appointment time via email. This may be done online.
- A short, written test may also be required of applicants to assess their ability to understand and explain undergraduate level Economics concepts.
- A personal resume is not necessary. You may scan and send one as a pdf attachment if you wish.
