Award Name: The CUBE: Indigenous & Black Talent Development Award

Award ID: 855000000270

Award Terms: These awards will support part-time or full-time, undergraduate or graduate, Indigenous and/or Black students, currently enrolled at the University of Windsor, to enhance an aspiring career-related academic and/or experiential learning opportunity which include, but are not limited to: research related expenses (e.g. conference travel and fees, journal subscriptions and fees, materials), course-related expenses (e.g. textbooks, materials), personal (e.g., wholistic support: community), land-based knowledge development (e.g. ceremony, land-based learning); wellness and healing support, professional development (e.g. non-academic courses, certifications), and experiential opportunities (e.g. study abroad).

To be considered for stage 1 of this award competition, students must be in good academic standing, must have community involvement/connections to community and must be able to articulate personal circumstances that may have impacted their life experience as well as any challenges that they may have had related to pursuing post-secondary education. Financial need and a student's intersectionality may be a consideration.

If selected to move forward to stage 2 of the award competition, students will be required to upload one letter of support from a community member who is able to speak best to their community involvement (i.e. a friend, family member, mentor, teacher, coach, past/present employer, etc.) within 2 weeks of being selected. In addition to the letter of support, students invited to stage 2 will be required to participate in an interview where the questions will be provided in advance.

Apply on-line via the Award Profile in UWinsite Student for stage 1 of the award competition.
